WATERATTACK RULES:
All participants who make it all the way across the water pool advance to the next round. Participants who fall into the water are ranked according to the distance they cover in metres in that round. If participants achieve the same distance in the final round, they may compete again to determine their ranking. The winner is the only participant to complete the final round or the participant who travels the furthest in that round. The final round is the round in which only one participant, or no participant, makes it all the way across the pool.
Important: Skiers must not push themselves forward or use skating steps. They may only gain speed during their initial approach!

LIABILITY AND RISKS
1. Without in any way limiting the responsibility of the competition organiser for the design of the competition facilities and the conduct of the competition, every participant and every parent or legal guardian must be aware of the risks associated with taking part. These include hazards arising, for example, from gravity, the cold water or unforeseen events. Participation in this type of competitive sport may endanger participants' lives and physical safety. Participants and their parents or legal guardians must understand that certain events cannot always be anticipated or controlled and therefore cannot be eliminated or prevented through precautionary safety measures. The organiser therefore disclaims liability. Participants and their parents or legal guardians must also understand that they may be held liable for damage caused to third parties as a result of their own participation or that of their child.

2. Each participant must assess for themselves whether taking part in the competition is reasonable under the prevailing conditions.

3. By starting the competition, participants acknowledge the suitability and condition of the facilities.

4. Each participant is responsible for the equipment they use and for choosing and safely negotiating their route.

5. Non-cash prizes cannot be exchanged for cash.

6. The organiser may continue to use the participant's (or my son's/daughter's) personal details for its own purposes. Photographs, video recordings and other material featuring the participant and created during the event may be edited, used and/or marketed by the organiser without any entitlement to compensation.

7. Gargellner Bergbahnen GmbH & Co KG accepts no liability for participants' health or for accidents (including physical and psychological harm). Participants take part in the event at their own risk. Claims against Gargellner Bergbahnen GmbH & Co KG for material damage are also excluded. All offers are non-binding and participation is voluntary.

I am aware of the risks and agree to this liability waiver. By signing, I expressly confirm that I accept the organiser's official terms and conditions of participation and rules.
